

The Interactive Bird Exhibit for the Dallas Zoo is a conversion of an existing Interactive Wallaby Exhibit.

DALLAS ZOO
INTERACTIVE BIRDS EXHIBIT

The existing holding building was renovated and a new holding building was added to accommodate a total of 12 holding cages. The outdoor containment structure and mesh were added along with new dense landscaping and visitor amenities. An intimate atmosphere for the interaction between fowl and people was the primary goal of the Zoo, while weaving applicable interpretive/conservation graphics along the way.

Budget: $500,000
Completion Date: Year 2005
Principal in Charge: E. L. Dunn, AIA
